

MAD CONVICT, WHO FLED IN MARCH, IS PLACED IN ASYLUM

Joseph Ensley, Last of Five in Plot, Returned From Leavenworth.

Joseph Ensley, one of the five insane convicts who fled from the Government Hospital for the Insane on March 17 and forced their way to the outside, after breaking a window guard and utilizing strips of sheets, is once more confined in the ward for criminals. He was captured in Texas several weeks ago, and made up one of a party of convicts recently sent to St. Elizabeth's Asylum from the Leavenworth penitentiary. He was sent to his old quarters in the penitentiary after his arrest in Texas, but the wardens soon discovered signs of recurring insanity. Arrangements then were made to send him back to St. Elizabeth's.

Ensley recognized his former associates, and pleasantly greeted the attendants, referring to the sensational escape in which he figured. His return to the institution completes the roundup of those who made their escape on the night of March 17.

As it developed, there was a plot between the insane convicts to break away from Howard Hall. Attendant Van Word was summoned by a call for water, and while passing it to a patient named Richard C. Neal, under sentence for murder, he was attacked by Thomas Winters and the other patients. The attendant was carried unconscious by them to a side room, where they locked him in. Joseph Ensley, Robert Hall, and William Huddell, Neal, and Winters then tied strips of sheeting together, broke out a window guard, and lowered themselves to the ground. Neal broke his ankle and soon was caught. Hall was caught on the grounds. Winters and Huddell were held up near Relay, Md., at the point of a deputy sheriff's revolver, being taken two days after escaping.

Ensley alone managed to get away, and in Texas was locked up. It was decided to send him back to the penitentiary. With the party of convicts, numbering nine, brought from Leavenworth there was John J. McPherson, who temporarily escaped by making a flying leap from a fast-moving train as it was passing through Iowa. He was handcuffed and under the observation of a guard at the time. The train was halted, and McPherson was hunted down. He was unhurt.

KNOCKED OFF TRAIN GOING OVER BRIDGE

Alexandria Fireman Puts His Head Out Too Far—Wife of the Rev. Page Dies Suddenly at Fairfax.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU,
ALEXANDRIA, VA., OCT. 2.

James A. Hutchinson, a fireman, employed on the Washington and Blue-mont branch of the Southern Railway was brought to Alexandria Hospital, suffering from serious injuries about the head as a result of a fall from his train. The accident occurred near Leesburg. Hutchinson, who was on a passenger train, put his head out beyond the lines of the train as it was passing over a bridge and came in contact with one of the timbers, which knocked him to the ground.

At the hospital, Dr. W. H. Smith, who attended him, found lacerations, but Hutchinson's skull was not fractured, as was at first feared. The man's condition is greatly improved. Hutchinson lives at 229 North Columbus street, this city.

Mrs. Lettie Morris Page, wife of the Rev. Dr. Page, of the Fairfax Episcopal Church, died at Fairfax suddenly yesterday afternoon, as a result of a stroke of heart trouble. She was fifty-two years old and besides her husband is survived by three children. Before her marriage she was a Miss Morris, of Charlottesville. Her husband is a brother of Thomas Nelson Page, the well-known author. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Accused of stealing several dollars' worth of lumber from Peter Atcheson, a lumber merchant, Robert Evans was arraigned in police court this morning. According to Atcheson's story he had been missing the lumber for some time, and positively identified some of the wood found in Evans' possession as his. By means of a private mark, Evans denied the theft, offering in evidence a receipted bill from another merchant for the wood, which he said had been used in building an "ark" on the river front. As an important witness was missing, the case was continued until Thursday.

Other cases disposed of were as follows: William Miller, colored, defacing property of P. Gibson, forfeited collateral; Louis Byrd, colored, disorderly conduct, $5; Melvin Newman, colored, assault on Gilbert Price with brass knuckles, $10; Bessie Hill and Dorothy Jenkins, colored, disorderly conduct, $5; James Bradley and Robert Williams, both colored, disorderly conduct, the latter fined $5; John Penn, white, and Ellen Kemper, colored, disorderly and defacing, $5 each; William E. Tyler, vagrancy, $5; Addie Talbott and Lucy Elliott, who became involved in an altercation in the Bradock House early this morning, $5 each.

Thirty-five marriage licenses, thirty-two to white and three to colored couples, were issued during the month of September, according to the report of the clerk of the corporation court. In the same period, thirty-two deeds were recorded.

A. J. Payne, constable of Fairfax County, received painful injuries about the head as a result of a fall from a Mt. Vernon electric car at the intersection of Royal and Wilkes streets, shortly before 7 o'clock last evening. He received treatment at the Alexandria Hospital.

At the special services held at the First Baptist Church last night, in observance of the re-opening of the church, after extensive repairs and improvements, a special choral service was held, under the direction of James T. Preston. The Rev. W. F. Watson, pastor of the church, spoke. At the afternoon service, a brief address was delivered by James E. Mansfield, who reviewed the history of the church since it was established in 1883, and short addresses were made by pastors from both local and Washington churches. The church was remodeled at an expense of about $12,000, having been thoroughly overhauled and an annex, adding eleven rooms for the Sunday school classes, was built. The gallery in the main auditorium was extended entirely around the church, and a new pipe organ, operated by electricity installed at the east end of the church.

Funeral services for George H. Harlow were held from St. Mary's Catholic Church at 10 o'clock this morning, mass being sung by the Rev. Henry J. Cutler, pastor of the church. The body was placed in a vault.

The Alexandria Free Kindergarten opened for the fall term this morning.

The corporation court for the city will meet next Monday, when the case of William Harris, colored, held for the murder of Maria Martin, August 13, last, will be called.

Funeral services for Alton Wenk, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wenk, took place from the residence of Mrs. J. R. Welch, 217 South Columbus street, this afternoon. The Rev. W. M. Polak, pastor of Bethany Methodist Protestant Church, officiating.

Suffered Twenty-One Years— Finally Found Relief.

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. The physicians called it "Mother's Pain" and injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean, and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours, MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Avoyelles Par., Marksville, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

A Straight-Away Talk on Clothes Values

There is just one reason why you should give preference to this store when you purchase your clothes—and that is greater values.

Value is the one deciding factor—you'll go out of your way to find it—and when you do find it you'll stick. That's human nature.

This talk is directed especially to the man who hasn't found 100 per cent. clothes value—as yet.

We want to prove to that man our economical management of this business and our ability to buy right.
